6. PROBLEMS
I) Capital
II) Marketing Strategy
III) Hiring Employees
IV) Economic Growth
V) Heavy competition
VI) Economic conditions
VII) Accounts Maintenance
VIII) Rule-making
IX) Decision-making

II) Marketing Strategy
It can be observed from the table that about 10.00 percent of the entrepreneurs are facing the problem related to marketing strategy particularly the working capital. The entrepreneur lack of his communication skills in the business. He gets losses in the business to improve the firm he doesn't know the way of selling the products and he did not know how to advertise and no the proper way of attracting the customers. The lag of communication skills and marketing strategies of the entrepreneur leads the business into losses. The marketing strategy is one of the major problems of the entrepreneur the firm, leads into the losses.

III) Hiring Employees
It can be observed from the table that about 10.00 percent of the entrepreneurs are facing the problem related to Hiring Employees particularly the working capital. The entrepreneur takes the whole responsibility of the firm he faces all the risk. He doesn't have the capability to hire employees his social and economic conditions doesn't permit him to hire the employees. He is the solo performer of the business he faces all the consequences by himself and he doesn't have any support in the business. There is one of the major problems of the entrepreneur in business.

IV) Economic Growth
It can be observed from the table that about 6.67 percent of the entrepreneurs are facing the problem related to Economic Growth particularly the working capital.

With the rapid growth of the entrepreneurs in the rural areas and the heavy competition he facing the economic problems and leading to losses. By these, he doesn't grow economically in the business. The entrepreneur lacking skills his social economic conditions including changes in the business and other economic changes wage rates, purchases costs, the uncertainty of demand all the aspects are the problems for the entrepreneur to survive in the business.

(V) Cut Throat Competition
It can be observed from the table that about 13.33 percent of the entrepreneurs are facing the problem related to cut throat competition particularly the working capital. In the rapid growth of population in India the growth of entrepreneur has been rapidly increased there is huge competition with other entrepreneurs in these process he has pressure from his competitive entrepreneurs he fails to attract the customers in his way and the customers habituated for the particular entrepreneur these is one of the problems of entrepreneur in the business.
VI) Economic Conditions
It can be observed from the table that about 13.33 percent of the entrepreneurs are facing the problem related to Economic Conditions particularly the working capital.

The entrepreneur starts the business with borrowed capital from others. He pays the amount for the lenders with interest and to reinvestment the capital in the business. He does purchase high quality of goods due to his economic conditions to get more marginal profit and he purchases small goods and he get small profits. There are one of the major problems of the entrepreneur to survive the business.

VII) Maintenance of Accounts&GST
The customers maintain the accounts with the particular entrepreneur. Customers are habituated to the entrepreneur and they maintain petty cash with the entrepreneur. They don't show the interest to purchase goods in the new firms and they are not willing to maintain the transactions with new entrepreneurs. This shows the impact on the entrepreneurs to survive in the rural areas.

VIII) Rule-Making
The small entrepreneurs don't have any experience in business to get profits he starts the business for surviving. Similarly, plenty of small entrepreneurs have established an ineffective business in rural areas where they had no previous experience. So, wherever he had no experience in banking, financing, exchanging of goods and services in lack of experience he fails to set up rules himself to enhance the business these are the problems of the entrepreneur to survive.

IX) Decision-Making
The entrepreneur wants to make different decisions at different levels day to day in the business. Sometimes he wants to take quick decisions in the business every decision shows the impact on his business a small decision can change the entire business of the entrepreneur. So the entrepreneurs should take a small decision very carefully and with the intention. These major problems of the entrepreneur in the business.

7. REMEDIES
I) Capital investing by the entrepreneur borrowed from others he should take the amount for low interest.
II) The entrepreneur should learn the marketing strategies from the experienced entrepreneurs to enhance business.
III) The entrepreneur should hire the employees in the business to reduce his burden if he had economical problems he should involve his family members into the business.
IV) The entrepreneur should take precautions in economic conditions he should change himself according to changes day to day life in business and he should use his skill to reduce the expenditure amount in business.
V) The rapid growth of an entrepreneur in rural areas he should attract the customers by using his communication skills to improve his business.
VI) The entrepreneur should maintain his economic conditions in better he should use his experience in his business.
VII) The customers are habituated to the particular entrepreneur should grasp the attention of the customers towards him using his skills and giving discounts maintaining petty cash books etc.

VIII) The entrepreneurs should learn how to exchange goods he should to make the rules to improve is business with consulting experienced entrepreneurs.
IX) The entrepreneur should take good decisions at the right time he should be careful while taking decisions if needed he should take the suggestions from others.

8. CONCLUSION
The entrepreneur plays the major role in the growth of a nation. But by the rapid growth of population in the society, the entrepreneurs increased rapidly and they are facing so many troubles to survive in the rural areas investing the capital by borrowing and paying the interest to the lenders his economic and social conditions. Lacking managerial and marketing strategies, lack of communication skills. The entrepreneur should enhance all aspects to improve his business. The government should take the invitation and should give economical support to the entrepreneurs. some originations should give support to the entrepreneurs some institutions should teach them skills in business how to enhance the business. Then the entrepreneurs can survive in the rural areas.
